Autumn 2008

Autumn is tumbling in, amongst beautiful Indian summer days. Beautiful golden and ruby leaves fall around us as the harvest blossoms and we preserve, pickle, jam and store our goodies to last us through the winter months.

Alongside all this preserving comes the early preparing for the festive season ahead. I do love this time of year. Once my initial sadness at the departure of summer subsides, I find myself lighting the candle rather than cursing the darkness. So the nights are drawing in, but that means cosy nights by the fire, stories snuggled up under warm duvets, toasted crumpets and steaming tea after a long autumn walk, watching my daughters faces light up in the night sky as bonfires burn and fireworks fly.

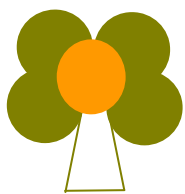

And as we start to think about making the Christmas cake, puddings and mincemeat, my mind also wanders to making my customers' favourite Under the Peach Tree products for gift shopping. This year, as last, we have focused on your favourites—gifts that go down well with aunts, uncles, grandparents and parents alike. Our shea butter recipes for both the hand and face creams have proved the best, so they are back this year. And of course, we wouldn't forget the beautifully gift packaged bath melts for that really luxurious end to a hard day for your loved ones.

With the credit crunch in mind, we have focused on 30ml sizes this Christmas. This makes a lovely gift size, but also helps you with your pennies.

As always, at this time of year, our products will be thoughtfully packaged in gift bags/boxes with our trade mark peach paper roses and ribbon. Just give us a call or drop us an email if you want to discuss your gift packaging options.
